A HUNDRED YEARS after the first settler reached Fort Walla Walla, the Cardinal reviews a century of noble history. In an age when pioneering is still vital to the progress of the nation, we ponder upon our heritage and anticipate a future as sturdy as our past.

Walt Whitman, the champion of the pioneer's creed, has shaped the language which is the Cardinal's theme.

"For we cannot tarry here,
We must march, my darlings, we must bear the brunt of danger,
We the youthful sinewy races, all the rest on us depend,
Pioneers! O pioneers!"

Conquering, holding, daring, venturing . . .

Pioneers! O Pioneers!"

Sketched by a pioneer-artist, is the joyous arrival of a wagon-train of settlers and supplies.

la. In this U. S. outpost, Indians traders congregated, settlers sought ection.

Fort Vancouver flies the British flag under the "White-Headed Eagle," the Hudson Bay Company's John McLoughlin. With strong hand, Dr. McLoughlin guided a Western Empire that was as unique as it was powerful.

Over the famed Oregon Trail, following trappers and Indian guides, the pioneer reached the fertile Willamette Valley. The hardships he endured made him determined to defend his land as well as plow it.

"Smile O voluptuous cool-breathed earth! . . . . earth
the mountains misty-topt!"

ne pioneer's immediate evements, in the City of pieces of art that have n common a sincere,

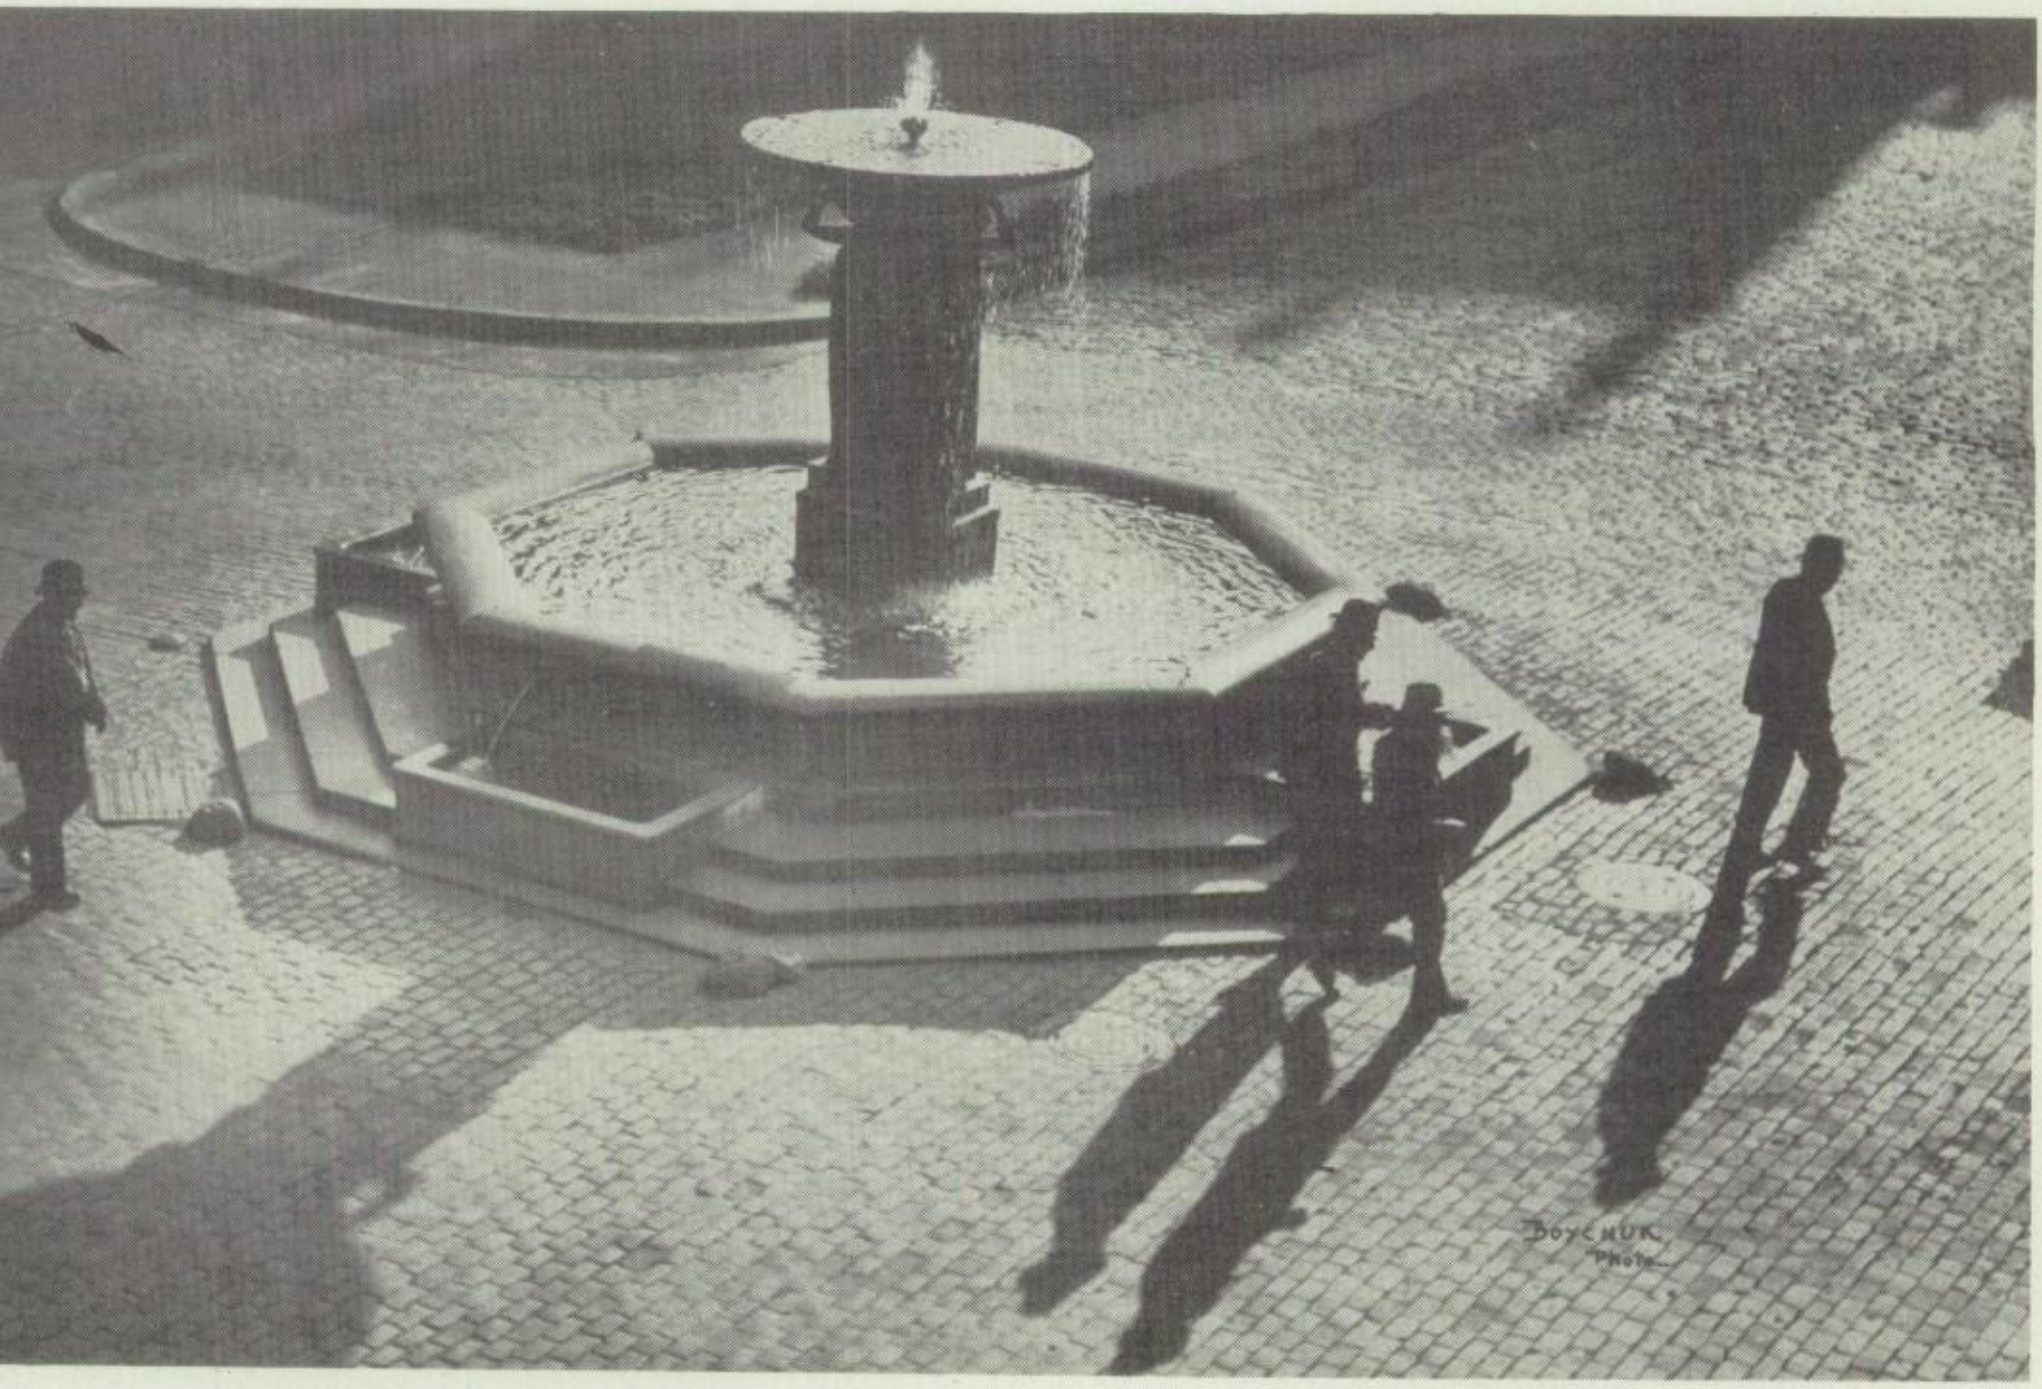
striking simplicity.

The statue of Lincoln stands austerely in winter hail.



Skidmore Fountain, gift of a pioneer, casts a bold shadow as in the early morn workers pass the landmark that symbolizes eriod. Portland is proud to own one of America's fine pieces of art. Today, the favorite meeting place of the Portland under the clock" in the city's largest department store. But as the century turned, as car was replacing wagon, as hustle ng leisure, his meeting place was "down at the fountain."

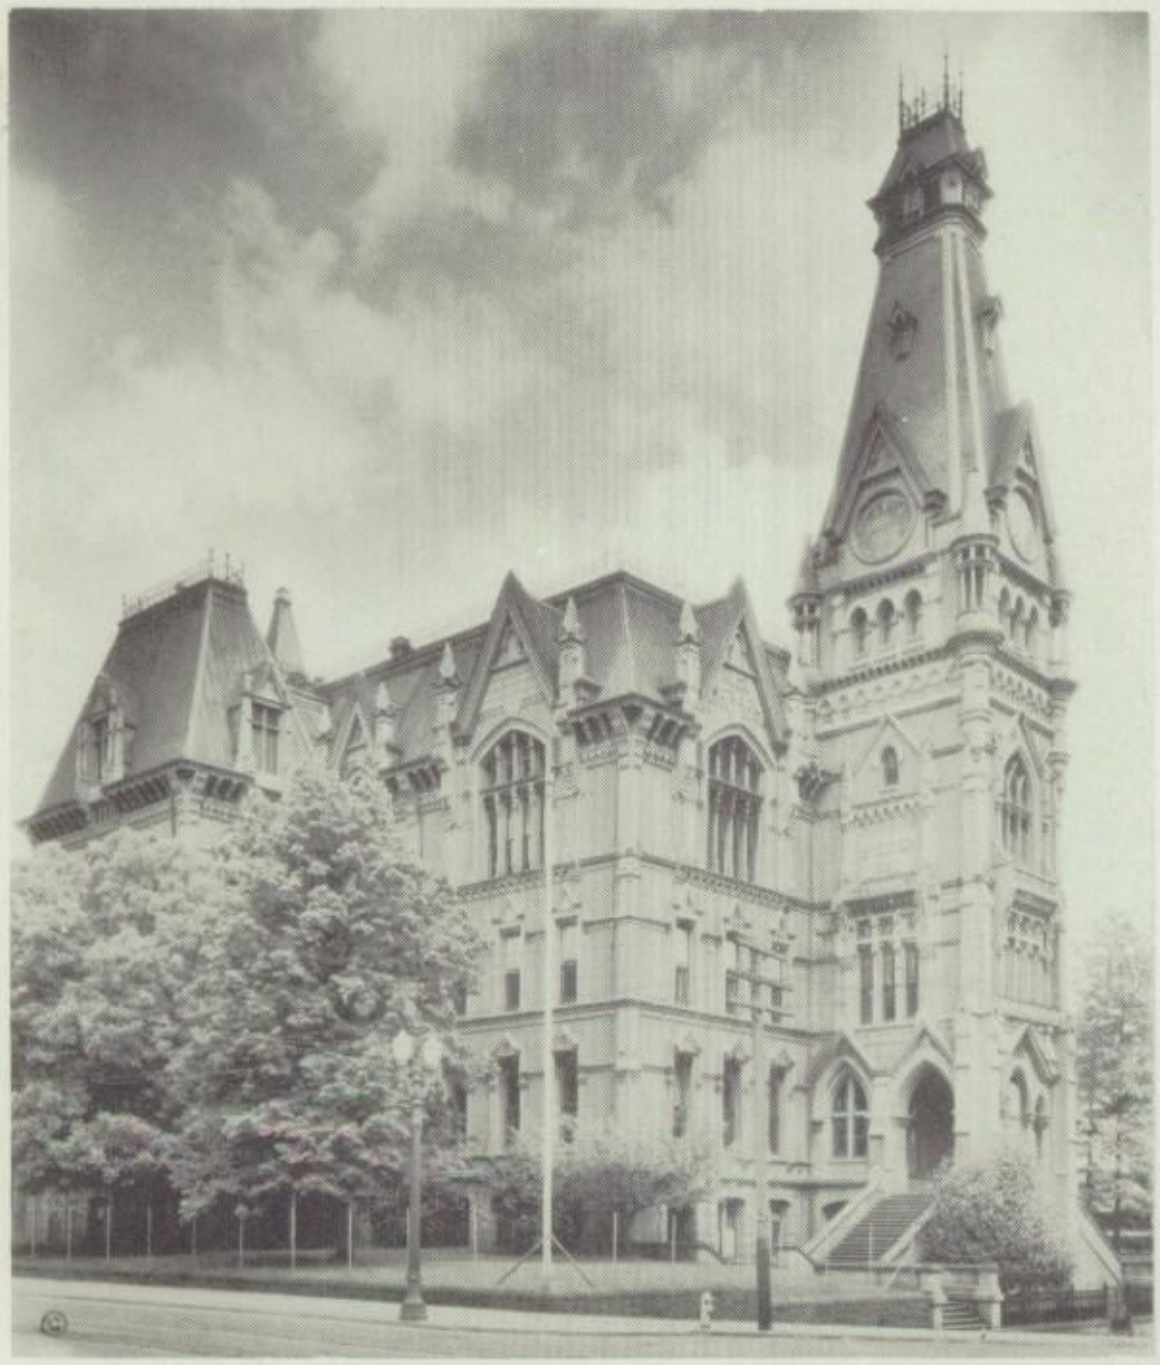
Left: Old Central School, located on the present site of the Pioneer Post Office, housed both elementary and secondary students before 1880.

The typical log school house of pioneer days was the forerunner of our modern, fire-proof, brick and stone structures.



The old Portland High School, erected in 1883, with its narrow corridors, steep stairs, and skimpy laboratories,—with its pretentious towers and arches, served for half a century as an institution of secondary education in Portland.

"All the past we leave behind —"

Here are two pictures of the present Lincoln High School. The first shows the building as it appeared while under construction in 1911; the other as we see it to-day, mellowed and swathed in ivy.

The clock door, a pleasing architectural detail of our present building.

STAFF OF THE 1942 YEARBOOK
Lincoln High School
Portland, Oregon

My dear Students:

I am pleased with your choice of a "pioneer Theme" for the 1942 Yearbook and with your use of the Walt Whitman quotations throughout.

Although a century has passed since the arrival of the first permanent settlers in the Oregon Country, we of the modern generation are also pioneers--in a type of co-operative living for the preservation of that democracy which was established by our forebears.

Yours cordially,

Harold A. York

t the outset of the 1941 football season, Lincoln's team was of unknown caliber. Seven lettermen, reserves from last ar's team, responded to the new coach Len Gehrke's first call for practice. Two weeks later, the Cards traveled to ongview, and lost a hard-fought pre-season tussle to Longview High School by a score of 2-0.

With this game tucked under their belts, the Cards opened the Interscholastic League with an impressive 19–2 victory er Commerce. But Lady Luck did not follow the team, and they lost five straight games to Franklin, Benson, Jefferson, rant, and Roosevelt, finally ending the season with two wins and five losses. In spite of the team's standing, it produced e highest scorer in the league, battering Bill Preble, who scored 45 points. Bill was on the All-City team of both the ournal and Oregonian.

The All-Star game saw tackles Pete Miller and Gordon Grout wear Lincoln's colors honorably.

LINCOLN 19, COMMERCE 2. The powerful Cards, with a 7-point lead as the outcome of the opening night, swamped the fiery, but small Stenogs, who received their lone score on a safety.

LINCOLN 6, BENSON 7. On the short end of a 7 to 6 score, Roberts broke away for an 80-yard touchdown, but Jones failed to report, and the play was called back as the gun sounded.

LINCOLN 6, FRANKLIN 25. With deception and speed, the Franklin Quakers rolled through the Cards on the wind-swept Franklin Stadium. Lincoln's lone score came on a pass from Preble to McIver.

LINCOLN 0, GRANT 33. Grant's Generals ran up five touchdowns to give Lincoln the first whitewashing of the season.

LINCOLN 20, WASHINGTON 6. Playing true to form, Lincoln pushed the Colonials all over the field to win handily after the score was tied in the first half.

LINCOLN 6, JEFFERSON 32. The Demos steam-rolled to victory, only after the Cards spoiled their perfect defense record by an interception, and touchdown run by Grout.

LINCOLN 7, ROOSEVELT 32. In the Roosevelt Stadium of knee-deep mud, the Rough-riders wallowed their way to an easy victory. Preble smashed and splashed his way to score for the mud-packed Abes.

Row 2: Coach Gehrke, Taylor, Wettle, Mink, Cooper, Beard, Graham, Menashe.

With only four returning lettermen, and one of the shortest squads in Lincoln's basketball history this year aggregation was the hot-and-cold team of the Interscholastic league, upsetting Grant and Roosevelt to force the eague championship to end in a tie.

Title hopes for the railsplitters were shattered when the Benson Techmen upset the Cards 36 to 31 giving Lincoln third loss of the season. The destitute Lincolnites then suffered a terrific shellacking by Franklin 52 to 31, followed by a close contest won by Jefferson 21 to 20. The remaining games saw Coach Gehrke renovate his quad to give experience to next year's eight returning lettermen.

Chunky Irv Puzzis, Cardinal guard, was named on the Oregonian's 2nd All-City Team, and received honorable mention from the Journal. Bernard Director, Dick Wilkins, Bob Epperson, Joe Sparks, Morrie Mink, and Dave Lebenzon received honorable recognition from opponents.

First row: Manager Hilkey, Horenstein, Snow, Kirkpatrick, Honeyman, Brenner, Brown, Lippman.

Coach Dale Schofield's Junior Basketeers, hampered by the loss of Hank Kirkpatrick to the varsity squad, suffered a tempest-tossed season, winning only four games.

The C team, consisting of players gaining experience for Junior and Varsity competition, defeated their opponents to win the league championship.

Experience, the all important factor in basketball, paved the way for the C squad.

Numerous prospects have come up from these lower squads, and despite the mediocre season, the material for next year's varsity appears more than good.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The editor is grateful to so many persons and organizations for novel ideas, liberal encouragement, and unstinted aid in all stages of the preparation of this year-book, that he found it necessary to set aside this page to recognize and thank them.

The editor's special thanks are due to Mr. Donald Abbott of the firm of James, Kerns & Abbott for his advice while we prepared these pages for lithography; to Miss Emma Griebel and to the alumni for cheerfully cooperating in supplying the Cardinal with photographs of retired teachers and those Lincolnites who have "made good"; to Miss Ruth E. Halvorsen who produced the cover and map and gave counsel on make-up and art work; to the art classes of 301 and the English classes of 315 for diligently running the silk screen process; to Bob Gekler for working out mechanical details of page layouts; and to each Joe Pungle and Susy Q. who contributed their iotas to the publication of this book.
